I grew up right here in southern Fairfax County and I am proud to be from here. Yet our quality of life is being threatened by cuts to education, roads, and schools that need renovation and reinvestment and politicians who are more interested in scoring points with the Tea Party than working across geographic and party lines to solve our common challenges. Vote for me and I'll keep the promises I make up here down in Richmond.

We need progressive leaders in Richmond who will carry our voices and our values to the General Assembly and work hard to build the relationships needed to move Virginia forward in these tough times. Our Commonwealth is consistently rated as well-managed and business-friendly, but our gridlocked roads, deteriorating infrastructure, and shrinking education funding threaten that reputation. We must have the courage to invest in our future while standing strong for human rights. I have fought to protect and improve our communities, as a parent, civic leader, elected school board member and as the delegate from the 38th District. I have a solid public service record of problem solving and concrete results.

I have a tremendous breadth of experience, but I also work hard to build on that knowledge. I listen to all sides, ask tough questions, seek critical information, and think through the future results of any decision before me. I won't be stampeded. I'm determined to use the respect I've gained in state government to shape rational policies that strengthen education, build a strong economy, and meet diverse human needs.

I love this community and have worked hard to ensure that future generations enjoy the same quality of life I had growing up here. As your delegate, I have fought to get our fair share of transportation funding, strengthen public education, invest in jobs and technology, and preserve our environment. I ask for your support so that together we can build an even stronger community.

My husband and I chose to live in Fairfax County because of its well-deserved reputation as a great place in which to raise a family. As your delegate, I have listened to your concerns about our community, county, and Commonwealth. I have fought to protect our schools, improve our roads, create high-paying jobs, and keep our neighborhoods and children safe. I ask for your vote on November 8, so I may continue working with you for a better future.
